

A Helping Hand in Safety

In recent years there have been substantial changes introduced by government that have resulted in an increase in health and safety laws. HIA Safety Services can assist you to comply with these requirements while continuing to operate a viable business.

We will help you with safety and save you money:

- reducing injury rates
- assisting you with mandatory paperwork and
- reducing the risk of receiving notices from inspectors

HIA Safety Services will put together an OH&S Management System for you which will prepare and formulate all the necessary paperwork and then helps you implement the procedures.

The Services are available for:

- building and construction
- fabrication
- manufacturers and
- suppliers.
